

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy applies to the use of this website by the Designium ("the Designium" "we" "our" "us"). This privacy policy applies to all services (the "Services") operated by the Designium.

Article 1 (Scope of Application)

This policy applies to the use of the Service. In addition, in the event that we stipulates the handling of User information in its Privacy Policy or other personal information protection policies or Terms of Use posted on the Service, such stipulations shall also apply, and in the event that such stipulations conflict with this Policy, this Policy shall take precedence.

In the event of any conflict between this Policy and the terms of this Policy, this Policy shall prevail. The provisions of this policy do not apply to services provided by other parties (hereinafter referred to as "Partner Services, etc."). Please refer to the privacy policy separately stipulated by the provider of the Partner Service, etc. regarding the handling of user information in the Partner Service, etc.

Article 2 (Information obtained by the Company)

In order to achieve the purpose of use set forth in the following article, we shall acquire the following information (hereinafter referred to as "User Information") concerning users of the Services (hereinafter referred to as "Users"). In order to achieve the purpose of use set forth in the following article, the Company shall acquire the following information (hereinafter referred to as "User Information") concerning users of the Service (hereinafter referred to as "Users") (hereinafter referred to as "User Information").

Information provided by the User when using the Service

Name, date of birth, address, age, personal phone number, email address, company name, company address, company phone number, job title, ID, password, and other information specified by the Designium in the Service.

Information we collect when you use the Service

Device ID, IP address, device location information, server access log information, cookies, and other information sent by users on the Service (search history, text data, images (including image data of people, etc.)) Data, video data, and other input contents on this service), information obtained from partner services based on the user's consent (such as the user's ID on partner services).

Article 3 (Purpose of Use)

1. we shall properly handle User Information within the scope of the purposes specified in the following items.

- a. To examine the contract of use and registration of this service.
- b. To provide the Service and to confirm the identity of the User
- c. For billing and settlement of usage fees for the Service
- d. To provide information and respond to enquiries about the Service.
- e. To notify you of any changes to the Terms of Use or this Policy, suspension, termination, or other important notices regarding the Service.
- f. To distribute advertisements regarding the products and services of the Company or third parties.
- g. To maintain and improve the Service and to consider new services.
- h. to investigate and analyze the use of the Service.

We may change the purpose of use described in the preceding paragraph to the extent that it is reasonably recognized to be related to the purpose of use before the change, and in the event of such change, we shall notify the User or make a public announcement by posting a notice on the Service or on the website operated by the Designium or by other easily understandable means.

Article 4 (Provision to third parties)

We shall not provide personal data (meaning "personal data" as defined in Article 2.6 of the Act on the Protection of Personal Information; hereinafter the same shall apply) to any third party without the consent of the User.) to any third party without the consent of the individual concerned. However, this does not apply to the following cases where personal data is provided to a third party (including a person located outside Japan) However, this does not apply to the following cases

When personal data is provided as a result of entrusting all or part of the handling of personal data to a third party within the scope necessary to achieve the purposes of use set out in this policy.

When personal data is provided in connection with the succession of a business due to a merger or other reasons

When personal data to be used jointly with a specific person is provided to said specific person, and the individual to whom the personal data relates is notified in advance, or is made readily available to the individual, of this fact, the items of the personal data to be used jointly, the scope of the persons to be used jointly, the purpose of use of the persons to be used, and the name of the person or persons responsible for the management of the personal data

In addition to what is provided for in each of the preceding items, when based on the Personal Information Protection Law or other laws and regulations.

Article 5 (About the use of information collection module)

With your consent, we may collect and analyze your usage patterns and the advertising effectiveness of the services through the selected information collection modules. In accordance with this, we will provide user information to the providers of the following information collection modules (including those located outside of Japan). These information collection modules may be used to collect personal information about you. These information collection modules collect user information without including personally identifiable information, and the information collected will be managed in accordance with the privacy policies and other regulations of each information collection module provider.

Name : Google Analytics

Provider: Google Inc.

Disclosure of information by the provider:

<https://policies.google.com/technologies/partner-sites?hl=ja>

Article 6 (Right to disclosure, correction, etc. of personal information)

If a user requests us to notify the purpose of use, disclose, correct, add, delete, suspend or erase (hereinafter referred to as "disclose, etc.") personal data existing in the database held by the Company in accordance with the provisions of the Personal Information Protection Law, we shall notify the user of such request. (hereinafter referred to as "disclosure, etc."), we will respond without delay after confirming that the request is made by the user himself/herself. However, this does not apply to cases where the Designium is not obliged to do so by law, including the Personal Information Protection Law.

To make a request for disclosure, etc., please contact the contact point mentioned in Article 8.

For notification or disclosure of the purpose of use of personal data, a fee of 1,000 yen per request will be charged.

Article 7 (Changes to this Policy)

1. we may change this policy if we deem it necessary to do so in the following cases

a. the change in the terms of this policy is in the general interest of the user

b. the change in the policy is not contrary to the purpose for which the contract was made and is reasonable in light of the necessity of the change, the reasonableness of the changed content, the nature of the change and other circumstances relating to the change.

(2) In the case of the preceding paragraph, the Designium shall notify the User of the change in the Policy and the contents of the Policy after the change and the effective date of the change by posting on our website or the Service or by electromagnetic recording methods such as e-mail at least two weeks prior to the effective date of the changed Policy.

3.

In addition to the provisions of the preceding two paragraphs, we may change this Policy by obtaining the consent of the User in a manner determined by the Company. In this case, the revised Policy shall apply only to the User who has agreed to the revision in the manner prescribed by the Company.

Article 8 (Inquiry)

If you have any comments, questions, requests for disclosure, complaints, or any other enquiries regarding the handling of User Information, please contact us at the following address

The Designium.inc

Contact for enquiries about the handling of personal information

Address: ICT Office Building AiCT3-2, 1-77 Aizuwakamatsu City, Fukushima Prefecture

Person responsible for handling personal information:

Representative Director Satoshi Maeda

privacy@designium.jp

Enacted on February 1, 2022